Victan®

Our Victan® casings are uniquely designed to complement your process and protect your product.

Along with their customizable adhesion qualities, these medium-to-high-barrier casings are ideal for the production of plant-based protein products.

Products

Victan® XMCC: For applications that require the highest level of barrier protection and extended shelf life.

Victan® HD: The gold standard of polyamide-based, multilayer, cook-in casings in North America – designed to keep products fresher, longer.

Victan® C: For products that will be frozen with the casing remaining on.

Victan® XSE: This casing peels from the product cleanly and in one piece. It can be used with fresh or frozen products.
